

Character Name: Puelle Sunstone

About your character: Puelle is an Amethyst Priestess residing in the desert continents. She is wise, observant, and is inwardly strong. As someone who is tasked with protecting the hidden knowledge of the great beyond, Puelle has to keep her faith in her convictions strong. The Amethyst tribe has long been keepers of the forbidden knowledge, and Puelle is known to be fierce when it comes to her soul's purpose. She is a mysterious lady and keeps to herself most of the time. Some even suggest that she may be a thousand years old, and is only using some form of sorcery to maintain her youth... But those are just rumors.

Skills (if any): As High Priestess of the Amethyst tribe, Puelle has the power of Omniscience. She can perceive and know anything and everything. Though powerful this may be, this is also a huge struggle for Puelle. She can connect to multiple realities and possibilities at the same time. Such power needs a worthy vessel, for, if bestowed upon the wrong person, it may cause them to fall into madness.
